Headline:
Weather turning more unsettled over the weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry night with long clear periods and patchy cloud, allowing temperatures to dip into low single figures. Feeling quite chilly by dawn with a local grass frost possible inland. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
A chilly and bright start to Saturday, cloud slowly thickening, with perhaps the odd spot of rain in the south. Longer bright spells further north. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Mainly dry Sunday, but cloudy with patchy rain later. Monday generally dry, but cloud and rain pushing eastwards overnight. Occasionally heavy rain clearing early Tuesday, then breezy with scattered showers.
